1. The Classic Lace-Up

How To Straight Lace Dress Shoes

Presented By: Real Men Real Style

This is the most common way to tie your shoes, and for good reason. It's simple, secure, and easy to adjust. To do the classic lace-up, follow these steps:

1. Cross the laces over each other and bring them up through the bottom two eyelets.
2. Cross the laces again and bring them up through the next two eyelets.
3. Continue crossing the laces and bringing them up through the eyelets until you reach the top. 4. Tie the laces together in a bow or knot.

2. The Ian Knot

The Ian Knot is a more secure way to tie your shoes than the classic lace-up. It's also known as the "surgeon's knot" because it's often used to tie surgical sutures. To do the Ian Knot, follow these steps:

1. Cross the laces over each other and bring them up through the bottom two eyelets.
2. Make a loop with the left lace and pass the right lace through the loop.
3. Pull the right lace tight.
4. Repeat steps 2 and 3 with the other side.
5. Tie the laces together in a bow or knot.

3. The Granny Knot

The Granny Knot is a quick and easy way to tie your shoes. It's not as secure as the Ian Knot, but it's still a good option for everyday use. To do the Granny Knot, follow these steps:

1. Cross the laces over each other and bring them up through the bottom two eyelets.
2. Make a loop with the left lace and pass the right lace through the loop.
3. Pull the right lace tight.
4. Make a loop with the right lace and pass the left lace through the loop.
5. Pull the left lace tight.
6. Tie the laces together in a bow or knot.

4. The Reef Knot

With your foot out of the shoe, tie your knot the usual way. Now grasp your tied shoe by the top eyelets and pull sideways. If the loop ends skew slightly so that at least one loop is down rather than directly sideways, you tied a not-so-dependent granny knot. If your pull test leaves the final loops lying perpendicular to the sides of the shoe, then you have yourself a reef knot and you're good to go.

To transform your granny into a reef knot requires one or two quick fixes:

1. Do all steps the same. Cross and snug the laces, then form your first loop the same way.
2. Now, reverse the path of the lace as you form your second loop: If you always pass the lace on top of the first loop, then pass it under the second loop this time (or vice versa). This is the step that fixes the knot.
3. Finish the knot and do the pull test.
4. If you still have what looks to you like a granny knot, then try finishing the knot by pulling the final loop to the opposite side of the shoe. If you've been pulling it to the left, then pull it to the right. If you've been pulling it to the right, then pull it to the left. (This will also involve switching the hand that pulls each loop.)
